Responsible Boating

Duck hunting gear such as waders and bulky clothing hinder swimming and buoyancy and when combined with cold air/wind chill, wind, water and/or precipitation, make drowning and hypothermia very real risks for duck hunters. You should not wear waders or bulky clothing in a boat in water greater than standing depth. Personal floatation devices (PDFs) are required to be worn under certain circumstances. For further information on legal, safe and responsible boating, contact Marine Safety Victoria on 1800 223 022 or visit their website www.marinesafety.vic.gov.au

Firearm Safety

The Game Management Authority (GMA) endorses the Firearms Safety Code, which was prepared by the Firearms Consultative Committee and promotes safe firearms handling practices. You should know the ten basic safety rules before you handle firearms and insist that anyone who goes shooting with you, follows these rules. If you wish to know more about firearm safety, or obtain a copy of the Firearms Safety Code, contact your local District Firearms Officer.

Game Management Surveys

Each year, GMA surveys hunters on their hunting experience. Surveys may be conducted over the phone or by post, so it is important that your address and telephone number (if provided) is kept up to date. Personal information is handled in accordance with the Information Privacy Act 2000.

Information Privacy

The Game Licensing Service of the Game Management Authority (GMA) is committed to protecting your Personal Information according to the principles set out in the Privacy and Data Protection Act 2014. This Privacy Statement applies to the collection and use of personal information, voluntarily provided by you, in relation to administration of licences and permits administered under the Wildlife Act 1975. A licence or permit may not be issued if the information required on this application form is not provided. You may also apply for access to your personal information at any time to confirm it is accurate and up to date, upon payment of a prescribed fee (if any). Enquires should be directed to the DEDJTR Privacy Officer at privacy@ecodev.vic.gov.au.

An introduction to game hunting

Important information for first time game hunters

Congratulation on deciding to become one of more than 50,000 licensed game hunters that make a significant contribution to the social and economic wellbeing of all Victorians. Victoria has a long tradition of game hunting that has been regulated and actively managed since the 1860s.

With strong deer, duck, quail, partridge and pheasant populations, combined with generous seasons, bag limits and expansive public land available for game hunting, Victoria is regarded as having some of the best hunting opportunities in Australia.

As a hunter, you must comply with all hunting and firearms laws and hunt in an ethical, sustainable and humane way. By maintaining the highest standard of behaviour, you can be proud of hunting, enjoy your hunting even more, and improve the perception of hunting in the community.

To help you become a responsible and successful game hunter, read and understand Game Hunting in Victoria - A manual for responsible and sustainable hunting. The manual contains detailed information about game hunting, including equipment suggestions and tips that will help you become a better hunter. It is available to download free of charge from Game Management Authority's (GMA) website www.gma.vic.gov.au

Know the law

Before you enter the field for the first time, you must pass any required tests and purchase the correct licence for the game you are going to hunt. You also must know the laws that ensure hunting is conducted safely, sustainably, humanely and fairly.

An entire chapter in the Game Hunting in Victoria education manual is dedicated to explaining the hunting laws in plain, easy to understand language. Refer to the manual and learn how to comply with the legislation. There are significant penalties for non compliance with the law, including fines, licence cancellation, and even jail terms.

The GMA website also contains links to relevant laws. GMA staff are always happy to answer any questions you might have.

Be an ethical, responsible and successful hunter

Responsible, ethical behaviour and personal involvement are essential to the future of hunting. You should consider joining a reputable hunting club, many of which run training programs for their members focusing on ethical behaviour, game biology and ecology, hunting methods, equipment, bushcraft, and many other areas that will help you become successful. Experienced club members are often happy to mentor new members and help them in becoming better hunters.

Some clubs are involved in conservation programs that make a real difference to game and non-game species and their habitats. Get involved and support these conservation initiatives.

Where to Hunt

There are many land classifications in Victoria and, depending on type of classification, hunting may or may not be permitted. The table below provides general information on where you may hunt.

Location	Is hunting permitted?
State forest, forest parks (Cobboboonee and Otway) and other unoccupied Crown land	Game species may be hunted during the open season only. Pest animals may be hunted at any time.
Licensed Crown land	Generally, game (during the open season) and pest animals (anytime) may be hunted, subject to the permission of the licensee.
State Game Reserves	Game duck may be hunted, but only during the open season. Sixteen State Game Reserves are available for Stubble Quail hunting, one for Sambar Deer hunting and six for Hog Deer hunting. Pest animals may not be hunted at any time, unless specifically authorised by Parks Victoria.
Private land	Game may only be hunted during the open season and pest animals may be hunted at any time, but only with the permission of the landowner/manager.
Sanctuaries	Game species must not be hunted at any time. Pest animals may be hunted at any time.
Melbourne Water catchment areas	Hunting of any type is not permitted at any time.
Flora and fauna reserves and nature conservation reserves	Hunting of any type is not permitted at any time.
Alpine resorts	Hunting of any type is not permitted at any time.
National parks, state parks, coastal parks, wilderness parks, regional parks	Generally, hunting of any type is not permitted at any time, but there are some exceptions (see below). No firearms are allowed in these parks except those that legally can be used for hunting permitted game and pest species (Except Lake Albacutya Park where other introduced species can be hunted). Alpine National Park, Lake Eildon National Park, Mitchell River National Park, Tara Range Park and Avon Wilderness Park: Sambar Deer may be hunted by stalking only in parts of these parks and only during prescribed periods. The use of dogs to hunt Sambar Deer is not permitted. Pest animals and other species must not be hunted. Cape Conran Coastal Park: On Sydenham Inlet in the park, game ducks may be hunted during the open season. Gundogs are allowed for the flushing or retrieval of ducks during the open season. Pest animals and other species must not be hunted. Gippsland Lakes Coastal Park: In certain sections, game ducks, Stubble Quail, and Hog Deer may be hunted in season. Gundogs are allowed for the flushing or retrieval of game ducks and Stubble Quail during the respective seasons. Check with Parks Victoria for details. Pest animals and other species must not be hunted. Hunters must have a permit from Parks Victoria to erect a hide in the Gippsland Lakes Coastal Park. Lake Albacutya Park: The hunting of rabbits, foxes or cats is allowed as well as the hunting of game duck during the open season. Gundogs are allowed for the retrieval of game ducks during the duck open season. Hunting is not permitted in part of the park at the Western Beach visitor facilities, including near the boat ramp. Nooramunga Marine and Coastal Park: Hunting for Hog Deer and game duck is permitted in certain sections in season. Pest animals and other species must not be hunted. For more information refer to www.parkweb.vic.gov.au

For up to date information on game hunting, deer hunting maps, seasonal arrangements, hunting in State Game Reserves, and much more, visit www.gma.vic.gov.au or refer to Game Hunting Victoria smartphone app.

Land managers like the Department of Environment, Land, Water and Planning (DELWP) and Parks Victoria will do their best to help you identify areas open to hunting, but you will need to do the following before entering the field:

- Identify areas you wish to hunt and obtain maps of the area
- Determine the land classification
- Identify the respective land manager (see Important contacts)
- Talk to park rangers about location of park boundaries, prohibited areas, etc.
- For Crown land, find out from the nearest DELWP offices if the area is licensed or leased or if hunting is prohibited
- Ensure that the use of firearms in the area you wish to hunt is not prohibited under the Firearms Act 1996 for safety reasons.

If you intend to hunt on private land, you must first obtain permission from the landholder or the manager.
